The Kids on the Block Early Learning Video

The Kids on the Block educational puppet troupe has been teaching children about differences for more than 20 years and now brings this experience to video. Kids on the Block characters Mark Riley, Melody James, and Ellen Jane Peterson, recognized by children around the world introduce viewers to some younger kids as they learn about:

Aggression -- Along with Suzette and Todd, children learn how to problem solve and manage anger through "Freeze, Breathe, 1-2-3."

Compassion -- Mai and Miguel demonstrate kindness to animals and caring attitudes towards others. Children also receive information about good health habits.

Perseverance -- Children receive an esteem-building message when Suzette demonstrates that persistence can turn "I can't" into "I CAN!"

This entertaining video curriculum, which includes a discussion guide and follow-up activities can be used in conjunction with existing Kids on the Block programs to introduce pre-school audiences to The Kids on the Block. Closed captioned. VHS format. 30 minutes. Each...$29.95

Through live puppet theatre, The Kids on the Block, Inc. provides educational programs which enlighten children about disabilities, medical/educational differences and areas of social concern.
